Monarch butterfly

Hi my name is inch. My mother left me when I was a little egg on a bright green leaf, but I'm not sad I know that one day I can become something amazing. Every days the same eat, sleep, and grow. One day I was feeling sleepy and decided to make myself a cozy silk bed (chrysalis) on a big brown branch.

I woke up a few days later stretched my legs and broke out of my cocoon. I fell straight to the floor but landed on my feet. I looked down and seen I only had 6 legs! I looked way up at my branch and thought how was I going to get back up there? I took a deep breath and looked to my left then to my right and seen these amazing wings bright beautiful orange and black. Could this really be me?

I can't believe my eyes. When I was in my cocoon I must've transformed into a butterfly. I flapped my wings which were still a little stiff and lifted up a little. I must keep trying being on the ground looks scary I need to get back up to my branch. I flapped my wings again harder and harder up and up I went.

Everything is different, the sights the smells it's like I'm a different person but the same. I got to the top of my branch and I can see so many flowers. I flew to a beautiful pink flower and it smelled so nice. Instead of eating leaves all day now I'm drinking sweet sweet nectar.

I went from a tiny caterpillar moving slow eating all day only to see green leaves ahead of me. Now since I am a beautiful butterfly I can fly its like I'm free I can feel the wind in my wings I can soar and I can see this beautiful world. I knew one day I would become something amazing.
