

Dear Contributor,

Khamseen: Islamic Art History Online is a free and open-access online platform of digital resources to aid the teaching of Islamic art, architecture, and visual culture. The website is a not-for-profit scholarly initiative, published through an online digital platform under the University of Michigan Web Services. It is not sold or reproduced in any printed capacity.

Image reproduction and permission to publish fees are the sole responsibility of contributors to Khamseen. Contributors must secure image rights and permissions and/or ensure that the utilized visuals are either their own images or fall under Fair Use guidelines according to the US Copyright Act. In addition, we ask that you include image credit lines in your presentation.

Please do not hesitate to contact us if any questions or concerns arise.

Sincerely,

Team Khamseen
