Michigan Harvest

Celebrate sustainable foods and healthy eating!

Michigan Harvest is the university’s monthlong celebration of National Food Day, the nationwide campaign for healthy, affordable and sustainable food.

sustainability.umich.edu

planets blue

University of Michigan Sustainable Food Program

Michigan Harvest Festival Kickoff
27 September / 1-5pm
hosted by the UM Sustainable Food Program
Campus Farm / Matthaei Botanical Gardens

Bugs Panel
2 October / 10am-12pm
Learn about the role insects play in human diets!
School of Public Health

Fast Food for Thought
27 October / 5pm
Faculty members give fast-paced, five-minute talks about food or agriculture!
Dana Building room 1040

Bacon Panel
30 October / 10am-12pm
Barry Estabrook (author of Tomatoland and Pig Tales) will discuss his experience in pig farms. He will be joined by a sustainable chicken farmer and someone from the fishing industry.
School of Public Health

Farmers’ Markets - fresh produce!
4 days each week / 11am-1pm
Mondays - Michigan Union
Alternating Tuesdays - Wolverine Tower North
Campus Research Complex
Thursday - University Hospitals
Fridays - Pierpont Commons
Sponsored by MDining, MHealthy, Central Student Government, U-M Health System

Friends of the Campus Farm - workdays
Fridays / 4-6pm
Matthaei Botanical Gardens