CALL FOR ABSTRACTS!

MSSISS 2009
Michigan Student Symposium for Interdisciplinary Statistical Sciences

Keynote Speaker:
Bradley Efron, PhD, Stanford University Department of Statistics

Friday, April 10, 2009
9:00 am – 4:30pm
Rackham Amphitheatre
Rackham Building, 4th Floor

MSSISS 2009 is the third annual student-led and student-focused interdisciplinary statistics conference at the University of Michigan. Organizers from the Biostatistics, Statistics, and Survey Methodology programs invite you to submit research abstracts for poster and paper presentations.

Goals of MSSISS:

- Network with faculty and students with common interests in statistics
- Stay abreast of statistical research at the University of Michigan
- Develop collaborations for future work
- Present your research in a supportive environment

You may submit an abstract for either a poster presentation or a 20-minute oral presentation. Submissions not selected for oral presentation will default to a poster presentation. In addition, one Highlighted Presentation will be selected from the submitted abstracts for oral presentation. See the selection criteria on the conference website.

Submit your abstract online by February 13th 2009 at: http://sitemaker.umich.edu/mssiss