

NEAREAST 235: Introduction to the Tanakh/Old Testament

Spring 2017

Professor Brian Schmidt
bschmidt@umich.edu
Tues/Thur 10am-1pm

Cross-Listed with:
JUDAIC 235
RELIGION 235

Introduction to the Tanakh / Old Testament is designed to introduce the student to the modern study of the Hebrew Bible within the context of a contemporary, public university liberal arts curriculum. The approach will be literary, historical, and critical using methods that are recognized and practiced by scholars of various modern religious and ideological persuasions. There are no prerequisites for this course.