

ISSUES IN BLACK WORLD STUDIES:
WOMEN IN INTERNATIONAL DEVELOPMENT

Professor Afaf Omer
419 West Engineering
Mondays and Wednesdays
4:00-5:30 pm

AAS458 Section 1 (three credit hours). Prereq.: One course in women's studies and familiarity with issues in international development; or instructor's permission. Meets with Women Studies 483. This course examines the effects of international economic development on women. It stems from the premise that economic development has resulted in ethnic and sexual divisions of labor that marginalize women and people of color around the globe.

