Interested in learning more about Islamic Studies?

Gain knowledge, hone your academic skills, and prepare for graduate school and beyond.

The Digital Islamic Studies Curriculum (DISC) Summer Research Institute offers undergraduate students at Big Ten Academic Alliance (BTAA) universities the opportunity to develop research skills invaluable in academia and beyond and network with accomplished scholars for a week on the campus of the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor, Michigan.

Participants in the program:

- gain a sophisticated understanding of the development of the field of Islamic Studies in the United States;
- engage critically with some of the major theories and approaches in the field of Islamic Studies;
- access the resources available to pursue advanced research and graduate study in the field of Islamic Studies;
- explore the diversity of Islam in the United States through engagement with the Muslim community of Southeast Michigan.

For details, visit: digitalislam.umich.edu/dsri

The DISC Summer Research Institute is made possible through the generous support of The Andrew W. Mellon Foundation.