If you wanted to add one more amino acid to each of these chains without worrying about the selectivity question caused by too many exposed functional groups, what reaction sequence would be used? Propose the formation of a tripeptide in each case.